Introduction to Scripture

A six week course on the Bible begins this Thursday, October 26th at 7:30 p.m. in the Conference Center (2nd floor of the school). The course will be taught by Father Doepker and will center on how to read, understand and pray the Scriptures.

Simply bring a bible and yourself.

Also, this Thursday Father Larry Delaney will continue his Scripture course. It is open to everyone who wishes to attend.

Invite the World to Christ!

Today is Mission Sunday.

Christ commanded His followers to tell the whole world about Him. This is your day to tell the world. Your Mission Sunday prayers and gift today will be the main support of the Mission Church next year as it speaks of Christ in word and deed.

Please pray ... please sacrifice. Help invite the world to Christ.

Just A Word ...

by Fr. Harvey

What a time to be alive! Amidst the innumerable telephone calls that any Monday brings, one conscientious parishioner called the rectory shortly before 1:30 p.m. this Monday past with the good news that a new Pope had just been elected. The call was most appreciated since neither TV or radio usually play in this rectory during daytime hours. After setting the church bells in action, I raced to our TV room to see the live coverage from Rome. I had carefully clipped pictures and biographies of front contenders from the newspapers in the days prior to the Conclave in readiness for this moment. The momentary silence which was evident in St. Peter's Square following the announcement of Cardinal Wojtyla's election to Peter's Chair was shared by me. Cardinal Who? Cardinal "Who" now is Pope John Paul II, installed this weekend as Bishop of Rome and Supreme Pastor of the Universal Church.

As the first non-Italian to be elected within the past 455 years, a clearer symbol of the Church's universality is in evidence. As the first son of Poland to shepherd the See of Peter, the new Holy Father brings a living tradition of faith that has been tried and tested even to the point of bloodshed for the name of Jesus Christ. (Even culture and culinary tastes may receive a jolt. Pasta may have to give way to pierogi and vino may fall second place to piwo.) As the youngest person to bear the burdens of the Papacy in the past 100 years, we can expect (hopefully) a long reign for John Paul II. I hope he takes time to ski and canoe, some of his favorite recreational pastimes. However, neither the Seven Hills of Rome nor the Tiber River will compare to his native land.

In spite of all the "firsts" accredited to Cardinal Wojtyla's election, an interview I saw with an Italian woman perhaps best summarizes the events of these happy days. When asked what she felt about the election of the Polish Cardinal, the woman's reply was "What difference does it make that he's Polish. After all, we're all Christians and he's our Pope." Long live the Pope!

Back at Home

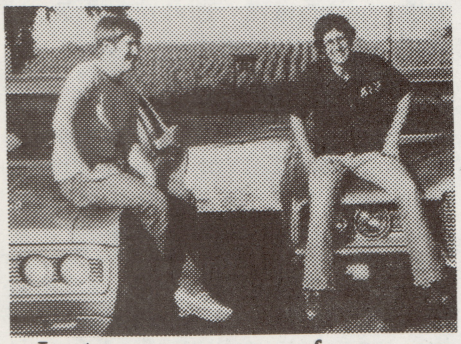
Today is Mission Sunday for the Catholic World. As I mentioned last Sunday during the Homily,

Mission Sunday provides us with the occasion to become more deeply conscious of the joyful task incumbent on each of us who glory in the name of Christ. The gift of faith is not mine for safekeeping. Unless it is shared, it is not really a gift at all. With whom did we last share the invitation, "Come, the feast is ready?"

Mission Sunday also provides the opportunity for each of us to share in the active mission work of the Church through supporting by prayer and financial assistance those men and women who have "left all" to carry the good news of the Lord's mercy to others both at home and abroad.



Last summer one of our own young men, Steve Schimpp (pictured on right), stood before us and shared his plans to spend two years in the mission field, as a member of the Agape Movement. Steve plans to work in the missions as an agriculture teacher. Several of us here, pledged to support his endeavor through financial backing and, of course, through our prayer.

Steve is now in training in California before embarking overseas.

The above picture of Steve was taken in late summer as he visited another young man in Wisconsin who had completed his training period and is now in Africa with the same Agape Movement.

On this Mission Sunday, we pay special tribute to Steve and the other young men and women who have dedicated themselves to the spread of the Lord's kingdom in a very personal way.

Steve may be reached by writing him at:

Proposal "H"

Beginning this week, a series of articles will appear in this paper regarding Proposal H on the November ballot. Proposal H (the Tax Cut/School Voucher amendment) deserves our supportive attention. Please read the articles carefully. Know the real facts. Do not let prejudice mislead you!

Parish Nuptial

Mr. & Mrs. Michael P. Andalaro

Two faithful Christians solemnized their sacred covenant of marriage here on Friday evening, October 13, 1978.

Michael P. Andalaro, 203 N. Washington and Janis Kay Thompson, 1106 Congress, proclaimed their vows before Fr. Harvey with Joseph Andalaro of Grand Haven and Lynn Marshall of Ann Arbor as main witnesses.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andalaro of Detroit; the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Ypsilanti.

Bert Ghezzi served as greeter; Peter Williamson and Patrick Davis and Bob Gray were the lectors. Music for the celebration was provided by men from the Word of God Community. Brady Johnson was the organist.

As we extend congratulations to Mike and Jan, we pray that the Lord may make their union a new sign of His faithfulness to all of us.

The Voucher and Justice

Basic Fact I

Public Funds and Private Education

Is this truly an American principle? In reality, public funds are used in public and private colleges and universities through the GI Bill, grants, research and building funds; in public and private hospitals through medicare, medicaid, research and building funds; in public and private housing through social security, welfare, rent subsidies; in private stores through social security checks, food stamps ... to mention just a few of public and private use of public funds.

Development in America has been two-fold: a) a cooperation of public and private entities along with the free market system for the benefit of the common good; and b) government assistance in providing the basic needs of citizens within a structure of optimum choice, freedom, dignity and self-determination for the individual. Or to put it negatively, we do not force welfare recipients to buy in state stores or live in public housing; we do not force health assistance recipients into public hospitals or clinics; we do not force elderly persons into the old "county homes" or "poor houses" of the past.

The anachronism is education. In education we totally reverse the American concept. We demand that certain age citizens attend a school, we tax all to pay for it, and we demand that as a requirement for receiving their benefits, the children attend a government operated school. Only those wealthy enough to pay taxes and pay again for a state required education can choose other than a public school.

This system has tended to make the institution the "end" and purpose of educational financing, rather than the child's education, and has certainly created a monopoly (normally anathema in America) in a field of education. A voucher, allocated to each child and applicable to the cost of his/her education in the public or nonpublic school of the parent's choice, rather than violating American principles, would bring education back into the mainstream of American policy.

The St. John's Youth Group graciously thanks all parishioners who donated at last weekend's bake sale. Your tremendous response has given us $123.00 to work with. A special thanks goes out to the moms, aunts, Education Commission, catechists and the Senior Citizens who donated money (in some cases) and baked goods. Without their help our success would have been a flop.

Intercessory Prayer

Give to the Lord, you families of St. John's,

Give to the Lord glory and praise.

Give to the Lord the glory due his name.

Bring gifts, and enter his courts.

Worship the Lord in holy attire.

Tremble before Him, all the earth.

Say among the nations the Lord is King.

Lord Jesus, we call upon you, and you answer us. Bend your ear, Lord, and hear our prayers. Guard us as the pupil of your eye. Hide us in the shade of your wings.

Jesus in faith we pray for our new Pope. Jesus, we thank you and we ask that through John Paul II we may be united in love, truth and service. Prepare your people, Lord, for your coming.

We lift up to you our parish team, Father may they be one in you "as you are in me and I am in you."

We lift up to you our sick. Through your healing power may they be free from sickness, suffering and pain. Be with Father Doepker and his family. We pray for his father that Jesus will be in control of his surgery.

We pray for the Marriage Encounter this weekend, a new life, a new commitment, a new love for each other.

We pray for the eight children who received new life in Christ through baptism. May the Lord bless all of you and enrich your new life.

We pray for Arthur and Linda who through holy marriage made public commitment to each other and to Jesus. May their love continue to grow in Jesus.

We pray for all needs of the parish.

See how the eyes of the Lord are on those who fear him, on those who hope in his love, that he may rescue us from death and feed us in time of famine. And may the grace and peace of our Lord Jesus Christ and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with all of us now and forever.

Praise the Lord
David Rocha
